TRAGIC HERO

The chorus hear the news, and began to turn against Oedipus and no long see him as king.

CATHARSIS

Oedipus realizes the truth that he is the curse of the city and that he killed his father and married his mother and now is in a crossroad between death and banishment, as he brought the downfall on the city.

MOTIF

Alongside with Oedipus learning the truth about how he killed his father and married his mother because he is the curse on the city that needs to be eliminated he is also self-blinded and the Thebians have suffered because of him and that caused the fear and pity among the chorus.

HAMARTIA

The Shepherd is talking to Oedipus about how he was born the most unfortunate man and Oedipus seems to be upset by this information and also one of his flaws that will lead to his downfall.

PERIPETEIA

The reversal shown is when the chorus explains how Oedipus was the savior of the city and honored above all men when his life did a complete reversal from his happy state and now Thebes and the citizens are the most honored in this city.

DRAMATIC IRONY

The Dramatic Irony is expressed by Oedipus when he is explaining how he sees thing in his perspective when that hand that struck his eyes where his own alone.
